

Memory Verse Puzzle

Aim: To aid in the remembering of bible verses.

What: A memory verse puzzle, just that! A sheet of paper with a Bible verse written on it, torn up into different sections.

How: Write a bible verse on a sheet of paper big enough to fill the whole page. Tear the page into sections however large or small you choose (the smaller the pieces, the harder it will be). The participants are to put the puzzle together either individually or as a group.

You may like to make it a race. To make it really difficult (depending on your group), use a longer Bible verse & you may also like to tear so that there's only one letter per piece! However you would only do this with experienced bible readers.

To make it really easy, choose a small verse & tear the paper into entire separate words. The extent of difficulty of this exercise is entirely up to you as you consider the mental capacity of your group. Don't forget to try remembering the verse as a group as well as discuss what it's saying to the group.

Who: Can be fun for all ages depending on the difficulty you set

Resource: Paper, & pen
